MedBiquitous Open Call for Proposals

This year, MedBiquitous launched an open call for content offering community members an opportunity to highlight their work. Currently, we are seeking presenters for our 2022 MedBiquitous Community Connection webinar season.

Is there a particular topic you are passionate about? Have you recently published research focusing on data standards? Are you launching an initiative that supports data standards implementation?

The MedBiquitous community wants to learn about your work!

Happy Holidays!

The holiday season offers a time of reflection and gratitude. As we, at the MedBiquitous Program, look back on 2021, we remember all of your support and participation and extend to you our sincere appreciation.

We hope the holiday season and coming New Year greet you with an abundance of health, community, and prosperity. Please be safe.
Join MedBiquitous Working Groups

The MedBiquitous Activity Report, Competencies, and Curriculum Inventory working groups recently launched and are still accepting new members. If you would like to participate in work related to any of these data standards, please contact medbiq@aamc.org.

Subscribe to the MedBiquitous monthly newsletter. An archive of past newsletters can be found here.

Please be safe and healthy.
